

MATAI SERVICES

About Us

Matai specializes in security solutions, electrical contracting contracting and general contracting for commercial and government clients, which demands excellence in quality and execution. Through our work with the U.S. Armed Forces, the Federal Aviation Administration and the General Services Administration, Matai is capable of delivering the same "military spec" quality and commitment to excellence to all of our commercial clients. Our experience as a general contractor aids in our ability to be an efficient and effective subcontractor in electrical and security work because we understand the scope of the project from the general contractor's perspective. We're capable of delivering complete solutions – including turnkey security solutions, electrical engineering, project management and construction – through a focus on performance, safety and understanding of our clients' mission and needs.

As an 8(a), HUB Zone, MBE, DBE company Matai works with the military, FAA, and a team of contractors to provide comprehensive construction management controls, competitive pricing, and a commitment to the highest quality.

Our approach to project management is focused on the outcome that all project stakeholders expect while controlling costs, quality and on schedule.
